Spanish Nite On Schedule At City Park

First Congregational Church Choir to Close Present Series

Well Known Local Artists to Assist in Colorful Program

The tinkle of Spanish guitars, the click of castanets and the colorful costumes of old Spain will aid in giving a most romantic flavor to the concert to be presented at the city park next Friday night, September 30, by the choir of the First Congregational church. The concert will be the concluding number of the outdoor series during the present season.

A double quartet composed of Meses. E. E. Bacon, Percy Kortkamp and Donald Ashmore and Miss Gertrude Cook, Messrs. J. C. Heasley, Joe R. Eastwood, David and Jack Buchanan, will present the ever-popular "Carmena," and a newer, conventional number, "Nightfall in Granada." Both numbers have the charming Spanish rhythm and are sure to be beautifully rendered by this octet of experienced singers.

The ladies will appear in quartet numbers featuring the popular "Marcheta," while Mrs. Ashmore and Mr. Eastwood will favor with Mes. Messrs. Buchan will present a pleasing duet of romantic tinge.

Instrumental solos, duets and trios are promised to complete a program which should be one of the most pleasing, from the popular viewpoint, of the entire series.

Those who attend are asked to wear their Spanish shawls, mantillas and serapes, as it is the purpose of the committee in charge to give this affair as much "color" and "atmosphere" as possible.

Those taking part are all local artists and are entering into the program with much pleasurable anticipation, a feeling that will be shared by all who care for the beautiful melodies of Spain and Mexico—and that includes all of us, it seems.

The park will again be arranged with seats and stage, though it is thought it will be necessary to eliminate the "box seats" which such good service at the last concert. Owing to the limited number of seats at the park it will be well to come prepared with cushions and blankets, pressed to make the most of terra firma.

The complete program of the forthcoming concert will appear in the next issue of the News.

ERNEST PEGLER WORKS UP IN FISH INDUSTRY

Ernest Pegler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Pegler of East Live Oak Avenue, left on Wednesday for Seattle, making the trip by boat. He expects to remain in the northwest a year or more, taking employment in the fish-packing industry, which he has been studying the past two years. He has combined his high school and junior college courses with practical experience in the fish packing concerns at Los Angeles Harbor. Last week he returned from a cruise down the Mexican coast with one of the tenders which visits the fishing fleet in Mexican waters and brings the catch back to the canneries. After gaining more practical knowledge in the next year or two, Ernest plans to return to college for more advanced work.

The Woman's Humane Club of Southern California will hold its next meeting on the third Monday in October, at the home of Mrs. Harry R. Allen, 289 East Grand View Avenue. The annual election of officers will take place at that time. The September meeting was held last Monday in Alhambra park and was largely attended. Talks were given by Miss Gertrude Gillan of Los Angeles on "Vegetarian Diet," Mrs. Winifred Jones of Alhambra on "Protect the Butterflies," and Mrs. C. W. Tilden of Altadena on "The Price of Amusement," with special reference to prize fighting, rodeos and the use of animals in the movies.

Mrs. E. C. Polsue, who has been in Pasadena the past two weeks for radium treatments has returned to her home at 272 West Grand View Avenue.

THIRD DEGREE SET FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

The sublime Degree of Master Mason will be conferred at the meeting of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., next Tuesday night, September 27. J. N. Hawks, master of the lodge, announces that there will be two candidates but that the evening's program will be so arranged that no one will be kept late.

Last Tuesday night the Masonic temple was the scene of an informal card party. The men filled several tables for bridge, 500 and cribbage, after which George Halpin served coffee and doughnuts and a bit of good fellowship around the table was thoroughly enjoyed.

Post Office In New Home October First

Public Is Invited to Make Inspection of the New Quarters

The new post office building on South Baldwin Avenue is rapidly nearing completion and the new equipment is being installed this week. Postmaster Jessica Wright states that the last stamp will be sold at the present location at 5:59 1/2 Friday night, September 30th, and that the new office will be open for business at 7:45 a. m. October 1st.

Henry Isaacs, owner of the new office building, wishes to give the people of Sierra Madre an opportunity to inspect the whole of the completed building before it is turned over to the government, for after Uncle Sam's employees take possession there will be no change for any one else to get beyond the lobby. Therefore the building will be open to the public from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Thursday, September 29th, and members of the post office force will be on hand to explain the uses of the many pieces of equipment and show how the mails are handled. The equipment is all of the latest model and has all the newest improvements and there will be much to interest the visitors. It will be a fine opportunity to get an idea of what happens to a letter after the stamp is flicked and the envelope dropped in the slot. Mr. Isaacs and the post office staff are hoping that many of the patrons of the office will be sufficiently interested to drop in during the evening.

As a convenience in connection with the outgoing mail a new letter box will be installed at the Pacific Electric station, when the office is moved to South Baldwin. Mail will be collected there at 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. in time for the morning and afternoon dispatches. This will be a decided convenience to business houses and patrons of the Pacific Electric.

Breakfast Club Opening Deferred

The first meeting of the Foot-hill Breakfast Club will take place on Thursday, October 13, according to announcement of Secretary Howard C. Vose. The opening was deferred one week to give more time for securing some special features for the occasion. The meetings will be held Thursday morning from 8 to 9 o'clock at the Santa Anita Riding and Hunt Club in Arcadia. M. Penn Phillips of Sierra Madre, who is one of the directors, reports a large number of membership applications were received by the board at their last meeting and there is every indication that the charter limit of 250 will be reached very soon.

Writing from Roanoke, Virginia, to renew her subscription to the News, Mrs. Emma E. Wallace, who owns property on Bonita Avenue writes:

"The News is welcome each week, as Sierra Madre and its people I love and I always feel an interest in its growth and welfare. Some day I hope to come back to my dear home in Sierra Madre. Until that time the News will be a welcome friend here."

Mrs. Wallace tells of a novel traffic sign found at many of the busy street corners which reads: "Lose a minute and save a life." She describes Roanoke as a beautiful, thriving city of 60,000. It is full of interesting reminders of American history, especially from the Revolutionary and Civil Wars.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lyon are rejoicing over the advent of another son, born Monday, the 19th at the Pasadena Hospital.

Ordinance to Curb the Fire Hazard Here

Imposes Drastic Regulations Concerning All Open Fires

Incinerators Must Be Provided for Each Dwelling In City

Fire protection through the safeguarding of open fires, rubbish burning, and the required use of incinerators is provided for in stringent regulations adopted by the city council at last week's regular meeting. The new ordinance, No. 316 on the city's books, was adopted on motion of Councilman Isaacs. It takes effect with publication in this week's News, the emergency clause being added because of the danger from mountain fires during the final weeks of the normal dry season.

Construction of the new city hall was placed in charge of a committee of three councilmen by a motion offered by Councilman Belohlavek. Chairman Hall, who was presiding in the absence of Mayor Topping, designated Councilmen Belohlavek, Isaacs and Fitzwilliam as the building committee.

Plans and specifications for the Wilson Avenue storm drain were approved and the resolution of intention for the project was adopted. City Engineer Gerlich and his assistant, R. W. Buck, have prepared a schedule for action by the board so that the project, now under way after long negotiations, may not be delayed a day unnecessarily. It is hoped the work can be prosecuted to completion in advance of heavy winter rains.

The request of Henry Isaacs and J. Belohlavek for the grading of Baldwin Avenue in front of their property in connection with the bridging of the deep gutter was granted on motion of Councilman Fitzwilliam.

The council voted, on motion of Councilman Isaacs, to request of the board of county supervisors an informal expression of willingness to vote the necessary resolution of consent, granting jurisdiction to the city of Sierra Madre for the Central Avenue opening project under Mattoon Act proceedings.

Cooperation of the city in connection with the proposed flood control department allowing the use of city land during the period of construction.

The new fire ordinance provides for the appointment of an officer to be known as the fire marshal by the council, who shall receive no compensation except such as may be designated by the council. In the absence of a specific appointment the chief of the fire department shall be ex-officio fire marshal.

It is the duty of the fire marshal to make necessary inspections concerning fire conditions or hazards and report to the council with recommendations as to a remedy.

The ordinance prohibits the deposit of ashes in wooden receptacles. Ashes must be placed only in noncombustible receptacles not closer than three inches to any woodwork, or on the ground not closer than 25 feet to any building. Inflammable waste material such as shavings, straw, rags, paper or other litter must be disposed of daily so as to avoid fire danger. Boxes or other containers holding such material outside of buildings must be safeguarded, or must be removed from the premises upon notice from the fire marshal.

Waste, rags or other material liable to spontaneous combustion must not be kept in any inflammable container. It is unlawful to allow any accumulation of paper, leaves, litter or inflammable material upon any roof.

Chimneys, smokestacks, stoves, ovens, furnaces or anything connected with any building or premises which are deemed unsafe by the fire marshal must be remedied within five days after notice to avoid liability for prosecution.

Provision is made for enforcing safety conditions in connection with aisles and exits of public assembly places. It is unlawful for anyone having charge of such places to allow any persons other than ushers to occupy the aisles.

The district north of Grand View Avenue is set off as a district of special fire hazard on account of proximity to the mountains. Fire screens or spark arresters are required on all chimneys, flues, smokestacks or other outlets for smoke or fire. Screens

MOTORIST MUST BE ALERT FOR THE CHILDREN

Chief of Police E. H. Keegan has just notified A. S. Greer, branch office manager of the Automobile Club of Southern California, that he is cooperating with the California Public Safety Conference in a campaign to protect school children at school crossings. Chief Keegan says: "I intend to make our crosswalks safe for school children if it can possibly be done. Too many school children have been killed by automobiles and I am going to try to prevent all tragedies in this city if possible. I think it only fair to warn motorists in advance that the police will be especially active around school grounds."

Census Will Be Taken of All Minors

Will Take the Place of Annual Registration of the School Children

A school census will be taken in Sierra Madre during the week from October 3 to 8 inclusive, under the authority of the Sierra Madre school district. This census will be for the purpose of making a complete enumeration of all minors residing in the school district.

The school trustees have designated as enumerators John E. Thompson of 47 Auburn Avenue, Mrs. W. C. Gruit of 111 North Sunnyside and Mrs. Nellie Fox of East Laurel Avenue. On account of the limitations of time and number of enumerators set by the county superintendent's office, Mrs. Cecily Allen, clerk of the school board, especially requests that the fullest cooperation be given the census takers as they make their rounds.

This census will not merely set down the number of minors, but a list of questions is furnished by the county school department to be answered in the case of every minor. This will take the place of the annual registration of children which has taken place in the past and which was by no means complete. The information to be gathered under the new plan will be so complete that it is believed a census once in every three years will serve every purpose.

While the census is designed only to apply to minors, it has been suggested that a complete enumeration of the population of Sierra Madre might be made in connection with it. The federal census is useful for about one year and after that actual statistics are sadly lacking for another nine years. The chamber of commerce and many other interests would benefit greatly if a complete enumeration could be made in connection with the school census.

FREE CLINICS WILL BE HELD AT HOSPITAL

Dr. G. W. Groth announces a free clinic to be held in the basement of the Sierra Madre Hospital on Monday and Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock, beginning next Monday, September 26. This clinic is intended for the benefit of those who have had their pocketbooks worn by continued misfortune or adverse circumstances. It will also afford an opportunity to demonstrate the effects of physiotherapy in some of the more obscure ailments. The invitation is to "come and bring a friend."

must have a mesh at least as fine as four to the inch.

Rigid restriction is placed upon all outdoor open fires in this district, whether for burning rubbish or burning off lots. Such fires are absolutely prohibited except with a written permit from the fire marshal.

Open fires are prohibited south of Central Avenue except between the hours of 6 and 9 a. m., on days when there is no wind to create a fire hazard.

Open fires must not be started unless all nearby buildings, trees, shrubs, flowers, etc., are first protected by firebreaks.

Incinerators are required in connection with every dwelling or residence in the city. Incinerators must be located at least twenty-five feet from any dwelling, and at least ten feet from any other building. All incinerators are subject to approval by the fire marshal.

Operation of incinerators at any time other than between 6 and 9 a. m. is prohibited except with special permit. Burning of gar-

'Lark Ellen' In Delightful Concert Here

Diva Charms Large Audience With Her Consummate Artistry

Miss Laura Cadmus Scores In Difficult Aria from "Herodiade"

With charming personality, a marvelous voice and splendid technique, Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw brought to Sierra Madre music lovers an evening's entertainment that will live long in the memories of all who heard the concert at the city park last Friday night.

Famous over two continents for many years as one of the greatest coloratura sopranos known to concert and operatic stages, Mme. Yaw proved that wedded life and semi-retirement offer no bar to her artistic capabilities. In each of the three groups, comprising altogether nine selections, the singer held the audience of more than a thousand persons entirely enthralled, and each group won an enthusiastic encore.

Scarcely less popular in the hearts of the audience and only less artistic to the most critical, Miss Laura Cadmus, of Sierra Madre, displayed a voice at once rich and altogether charming in her rendition of "Air of Salome," from "Herodiade," (Massenet) and the ballads by Mme. Yaw, Dvorak, Horn and Charles Wakefield Cadman.

The Play Sisters, protégés of Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw, who also assisted on the program, made their debut in the Sierra Madre program and they won instant favor with their audience. Dressed in charming costumes, they sang songs of the long ago, their youthful voices blending delightfully in the beautiful harmonies. When it is known that Mme. Yaw gave the Duncan Sisters their training, launching them on careers of fame and fortune, and that she predicts equal success for the young ladies who appeared on the park program, it will be a matter of interest here to watch their progress.

Two other charming young misses also appeared on the program, the Weaver Sisters, of Los Angeles, guests of Mme. Yaw at her home at Covina. They played a trumpet duet as an opening number on the program and met with an enthusiastic encore.

Miss Georgiella Lay of Los Angeles played each accompaniment with exquisite artistry, assisting in large measure in the memorable success of the program.

The park had been transformed into a beautiful amphitheatre through the efforts of committees working at the request of members of the chamber of commerce, which in turn was cooperating with the Canyon Improvement Association, sponsors of the program.

The committee, composed of Gordon Brooks, secretary of the chamber of commerce; J. E. Carpenter, street superintendent; E. H. Keegan, police chief and park superintendent; Joe R. Eastwood, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. R. W. Stewart, Mrs. R. M. Finlayson and Mrs. E. Sturmhall, worked energetically Friday in arranging the stage, an effective lighting system and the seating. A score of large Chinese lanterns were strung about the park and added greatly to the attractiveness of the setting.

A grand piano was supplied through the courtesy of the Coops & Sons Piano Factory of Pasadena and the Sierra Van and Transfer Company, also of that city. The instrument was furnished and transported without cost to the committee.

Chief of Police E. H. Keegan is especially to be commended for the traffic regulation maintained during the concert. With the aid of Schneberger, Roy Edwards, Norman Wells, Joe Grippi and Thompson Hare, all Boy Scouts, traffic was deflected from Central Avenue and permitted the program to continue without the usual aggravating noises by passing cars. Only one car got thru "the line" and that was driven by a poor sport who told the boys he was going only as far as the club house, where a dancing party was in progress. It is another indication that when a Scout is "on the job" the "job" is well taken care of. Mr. Keegan gathered the boys together, gave them their "orders of the day" and that was that.

The hauling of boxes from the Lamanda Park Citrus packing plant was done by a truck supplied by Milton Steinberger, with

FALL SPECIALS ARE OFFERED BY KAY SHOP

A wonderful array of bargains is offered by the Kay Specialty shop in their advertisement this week. Coats, dresses, millinery, and handkerchiefs are included in the offerings. Since the enlargement of the display rooms and the addition of children's wear to the stock, Mrs. Kaplan reports the Kay shop has enjoyed a substantial increase in volume of business. The sale will be in progress from Friday to Monday inclusive. Customers who wish to make selections during the sale may make a small deposit if they do not wish to take the garment at the present time, and it will be held to suit their pleasure.

School Work Is Discussed By Mothers

Regular Attendance of Children Is Urged by School Superintendent

Active interest in Parent-Teacher Association affairs was displayed at the first fall meeting of the association Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. R. R. Moreland, the new president, presided.

Tentative plans were made for a Halloween carnival to be held Friday night, October 28. This will be for the dual purpose of providing the younger generation with an outlet for the spirits of the season, and for raising money to defray association expenses during the year. It is hoped the carnival can be held on the school grounds and will prove attractive to the entire community.

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the school, told the assembled mothers several ways in which they can cooperate with the school. In the first place the school cafeteria needs patronage. Because of the transfer of the 7th and 8th grades the number of possible customers is reduced and a larger proportion of the lower grades are needed to make the cafeteria a success. While it is operated by the school district, County Supt. Keppel has ruled that the trustees can not use school funds to make up any deficit. If there is any loss it will be up to the association to raise the necessary money to make it good.

Necessity for regular attendance was stressed. The apportionment of county school funds is based on average daily attendance. The school day is divided into units of ten minutes for the primary and fifteen minutes for the grammar grades. Every unit of the day a pupil is absent reduces the financial receipts of the district.

Rainy day attendance is also something needing foresight, said Miss Steinberger. Provide pupils with raincoats and rubbers and the teachers will do their best to see that they are taken care of at school. It is disconcerting to teachers to have pupils kept out of school ostensibly on the score of bad weather and then to meet them running about town after school hours.

Parents ought to visit school early in the term and continue visits regularly. Miss Steinberger says too many parents defer their first visits to school until their children get into difficulties which might have been avoided with proper cooperation on their part.

Mrs. N. Davis, a recent arrival in Sierra Madre, has leased the Mountain House property at the corner of Baldwin and Alegria. A number of improvements are being made and it is the intention of Mrs. Davis to conduct a private hotel.

Carl Peterson in command, so to speak, while a great deal of haulage or waste food materials in incinerators so as to cause excessive smoke or objectionable odors is prohibited.

Restrictions are imposed upon the keeping of gunpowder or other explosives, and also upon the storage and handling of celluloid films. Requirements are imposed for the installation of chemical extinguishers or fire hose in hotels or public buildings.

Fire department apparatus and firemen on the way to fires are given the right of way over all other street traffic. Drivers of all other vehicles are required to stop promptly as near to the curb as possible upon approach of fire apparatus and not to move from such position until the fire apparatus has passed a distance of at least 500 feet.

News Special Edition Will Supply Need

Will Be Handsomely Illustrated With Many Late Views

Edition of Twenty Thousand To Supply Acute Need for Literature

Publication of a special Chamber of Commerce illustrated edition of the Sierra Madre News was endorsed by the directors of the chamber at their meeting Tuesday night. The plan, which had been evolved in consultation between President Humphries, Secretary Brooks and Messrs. Morgridge and Eastwood of the News was presented to the directors by Mr. Morgridge.

The special edition will present a large number of new views of Sierra Madre buildings and scenes and a comprehensive lot of information about the community. In order to permit publication of a large enough quantity for broadcasting the size will be held to eight pages of commercial letter size. The edition will consist of at least 20,000 copies. A small amount of space will be devoted to advertising in the form of a classified business directory, to help provide the necessary funds. It is believed that this section, together with the assistance of property owners who may be willing to meet a share of the expense and have their homes included among the illustrations, will make the enterprise feasible.

All the directors present were favorable to the plan and several of them agreed to cooperate in every way possible in putting it over. It is believed the folder as designed will be a model in being at once complete and compact.

This special edition of the News will supply a great need of the chamber of commerce. The small folder which was published a year ago has been exhausted and the secretary has no literature about Sierra Madre to send out in answer to inquiries. With the tourist season and a general increase of activities coming swiftly, there is genuine need for this special edition. Every News subscriber will receive a copy as a supplement to the regular issue, the balance of the edition being turned over to the chamber of commerce for distribution.

Secretary Brooks reported four new members enrolled in the chamber, Messrs. J. R. Thompson, Walter W. Alley, Mr. Foote and Chief of Police E. H. Keegan.

Plans for a fall rally to promote chamber of commerce activities were discussed. This will be the first of a series of community gatherings and will be in the form of a dinner, of which the details will be announced later.

Local traffic conditions were discussed, especially with reference to the claim that there is a superfluity of stop signs about town. The subject was left for further study in conjunction with the city authorities.

BARBER SHOP TREATMENT IS WORTH WHILE

Found: Several street lights on South Baldwin Avenue.—J. E. C., City Hall.

Bobber Service: The latest in bobs for pepper and other street trees.—J. E. C., City Hall.

Thus might Street Superintendent J. E. Carpenter break into the classified columns. During the past week his crew has been bobbing or bearding the South Baldwin Avenue pepper trees of their shaggy growth, which hung nearly to the ground. The sidewalks are less like a tunnel at night, and street lights have blossomed out brightly after being in eclipse for many moons.

Furthermore, this much-used front door path into our fair city looks much more attractive and orderly. More power to him!

Mrs. George Smith of 11 North Mountain Trail Avenue, who recently returned from a visit of two months with her father in Arkansas has just received the sad news of his demise.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Porter Miller and two daughters returned Wednesday from a two weeks' trip to the home of Mrs. Miller's parents in Michigan.

E. Waldo Ward of 273 East Highland is visiting in San Diego and was there to enjoy the Lindberg celebration.

Fr. Kneeland Will Leave Local Field

The Rev. M. D. Kneeland, B.D., who during the past two years has filled the rectorship of the Church of the Ascension, has submitted his resignation to the Vestry of the church, and it has been accepted to take effect the first of October.

Fr. Kneeland came to the Church of the Ascension in April, 1925, as locum tenens, and in October was unanimously called to be the rector. The resignation of Fr. Kneeland has been contemplated by him for several months past, but comes as a great surprise at this time to the members of his parish, who unite in expressing deep regret at his decision.

THE 'GORILLA' NEXT THRILLER AT SAN GABRIEL

One of the most amusing mystery farces ever thought up will be unfolded at the Mission Playhouse, San Gabriel. "The Gorilla" which is the name of this sensation, is a travesty on the customary thriller that used to make theatre-goers afraid to wander homeward at midnight after an enjoyable evening of the creeps.

To recite all of the incidents would give away the stimulating surprise. Suffice it to say that when the audience leaves the theatre it is with the feeling that they don't care if they never laugh again—they are just laughed out.

Harland Tucker and Ferdinand Munier are to play the roles of the two detectives and will furnish most of the fun throughout the play.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Meyer of Hilbert, Wisconsin, are visiting at the home of Fred Griebenow. Mrs. Meyer is a sister of Mr. Griebenow's. Mr. Meyer, who has large lumber interests in Wisconsin, was sent to Tacoma, Wash., as a delegate to the National Lumbermen's convention. They have visited many points of interest in the west and will continue on their trip Monday, encircling the remaining mileage of the West on their way home.

"SIGNS THAT MOVE"

Some good friend of mine believes in signs. This week three of my signs have disappeared, sometime between night and the morning after.

I try to keep my signs neat, clean and attractive. I use good wood and paint in their construction. If these signs have been the means of breaking the chill these fall evenings, I will be glad to furnish stove wood to take the place of the signs; all I want is the size of the stove and the address where delivery should be made.

I'll give a reward of a load of firewood or its equivalent in good old dollars for information as to who these "parties" are.

Most of the "movement" is below Central and east of Baldwin. We have many clients who desire Sierra Madre property in exchange for Long Beach, Los Angeles, Orange, South Pasadena, Pasadena, Glendale and other places.

I was asked the other day if I was moving much of my own property. My reply was, "I have no property for sale; am buying property." If you want your property sold, come to

College For Women Is Suggested

College of horticulture and agriculture for women is the novel suggestion offered by Frances Duncan, editor of the Farm and Garden Magazine of the Sunday Express. And after seeing Bailey's Canyon and hearing of the plans for a Sierra Madre Arboretum she suggests that as the ideal location for such an institution.

Various interesting possibilities are opened up by Mrs. Duncan's suggestion. The gathering together of a group of students for such a purpose would mean that a considerable part of the experimental work would be carried on by the students in a way to help solve the expense problem of a large staff of workers. A recent editorial article by Mrs. Duncan dealing with the proposal is as follows:

Now that the schools and colleges are renewing activities, one observes again that there is a large and famous hole where one type of school or college ought to be and isn't.

Not only here but back east we are asking, "Why is there not in California a College of Horticulture for Women?" The climate, the possibilities of wide usefulness for such a school, the immense interest in horticulture, very evident here, the pleasant and confirmed habit observed in people of other states in coming to California for a sojourn of a year or more—all these factors fairly clamor for such an institution.

We have of course, as everyone knows, an admirable college of agriculture in connection with our State University; we have courses in other colleges in agricultural and horticultural subjects; we have school gardens, perhaps more competently managed than anywhere in the U. S. But a college of horticulture which is that and nothing else, a delightful the pleasure of talking with Prof. Liberty H. during his last winter's stay. Said he, "But it should be some place which has back of it a charming place, some one of the old missions, San Juan Capistrano, for instance; or there was Los Sereno near Chino, with its ivy-clad colonnade of towering locusts. That, however, is now a famous country club." An admirable place for such a school would be near the new botanical garden at Mandeville Canyon. More practical, perhaps, would be Sierra Madre with its beginning botanical garden and most alluring canyon, and Pasadena, with its lovely gardens constantly near for observation and study, while the arroyo would offer a fascinating opportunity for a wide variety of projects.

And one could assemble a faculty without needing to go far afield—not so much professional teachers as practical growers, expert hybridists, specialists in one flower or another—one could name a dozen or two of high standing in the horticultural world without needing to cast about in one's mind at all—Richard Diener, Carl Salbach, Stillman Berry, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Briggs, Miss Sessions, Miss Seals, C. F. Houdy-schell—these are just a few, and Mrs. H. M. Barton of San Ber-

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

Members of the Canyon Improvement Association were the recipients of much praise during the week for the splendid concert sponsored by the organization in the City Park on Friday evening. The success of the concert was evidenced by the fact that nearly without exception those present remained quiet and attentive to the very end. With traffic noises at a minimum and with not a sign of confusion or disorder the artists' voices were heard clearly and intelligibly by all listeners, even by those who were gathered on the fringes of the large crowd assembled for the occasion.

The association, through Miss Laura E. Cadmus, who was directly in charge of the program on Friday evening, has extended thanks to many outside the association who gave so freely of their time and efforts toward making the evening a success, particularly to W. R. Humphries, president, and Gordon Brooks, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Joe R. Eastwood and George B. Morgridge of the Sierra Madre News, City Marshall Keegan and his helpers, Street Supt. J. E. Carpenter, the Coops Piano Factory of Pasadena, which furnished the splendid grand piano, the Sierra Van and Storage Co. for hauling the piano to and from Pasadena, G. I. Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric Co., and Mr. Campbell.

At a delightful luncheon given at her home, El Contento, on Tuesday, Mrs. Laura M. Cadmus entertained Mrs. John Cagney and Mrs. Earl Nelson of Los Angeles, Mrs. Anderson of Hollywood and Mrs. O. D. Hunt of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox of Vista Circle Drive, spent several days motoring in San Diego during the past week. They returned to their canyon home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leaming of Long Beach are spending a few days in the cottage, Minnehaha, on Woodland Drive. Mr. Leaming, a canyon pioneer, built the canyon store and was its first proprietor.

Mrs. E. A. Anderson spent Saturday and Sunday in Long Beach visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burke.

Miss Katherine Burton will be a resident of Cadmus Villa for the entire winter. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Burton, have recently returned to their home in Hermosillo, Sonora, Mexico.

Tell the World

WHEN home seekers and prospective property buyers or renters write to Sierra Madre for information about the town the Chamber of Commerce has no available printed matter to send them. The need is in part supplied by the Sierra Madre News, the president and secretary knowing they can always obtain current issues for such purposes without charge. This is only one of the ways in which the local newspaper can cooperate in Chamber of Commerce activity. Current issues of the newspaper furnish an excellent passing glimpse of the community as it is, but do not supply the comprehensive information which is desirable in such cases. Obviously the Chamber of Commerce needs a new supply of community advertising literature.

When these information seekers write for data about Sierra Madre there is a strong probability that they also write to half a dozen other communities in this vicinity. Whatever is sent to them furnishes a basis of comparison of Sierra Madre with these other cities. Whatever is prepared for distribution by the Chamber of Commerce must be attractive in appearance and must embody comprehensive information. The Sierra Madre News and the Chamber of Commerce directors have agreed upon a plan to meet this need in a splendid way. This will be in the form of an illustrated edition of the News, in the preparation of which the Chamber of Commerce and the publishers of the News will cooperate.

It is believed by those who have considered the plan that it will provide the finest piece of community advertising matter ever published here. It will require the assistance of a large number of people to make it possible, but this need not be burdensome to any, if all will do their part. The thing to remember when the proposition is presented, is that the need is acute with the opening of the winter season at hand. With everybody helping the enterprise, the coming year can be made a memorable one in community development.

THREE boys with reform school "education" sat in a stolen automobile about midnight, watching a lunch counter they had planned to rob. One of them held a pistol. An officer approached to ask what they were doing there and somehow the pistol went off and killed the officer.

No particular mystery about it, so far as an ordinary man can see. The facts were brought out in the testimony of the three boys at the murder trial. But the attorney for the defense came to the rescue of the young murderer with an argument of "self defense!"

The legal profession has recently been given the right to organize as a self-governing body. Much publicity has been sent out to tell the world how it will raise the standards of court procedure and the practice of law. If the lawyers want to convince the general public that they are in earnest about elevating their profession, that they believe the law is for the establishment of truth and justice, one of the surest methods would be to promptly disbar a lawyer who would disgrace a court room with such an argument.

Observations

(By G. B. M.)

PASSING THE BUCK—

L. E. Steinberger was one of the tribe of hunters who decided to try his luck with the opening of the deer season, and thereby hangs one of the most interesting tales of the season.

Mr. Steinberger made arrangements to borrow a rifle from Carl Pegler, who no longer regards as a total loss the year in which he does not bring in a buck or two. So he went down to the Pegler home on East Live Oak Avenue to get the gun. As he left the house and started out of the driveway through the lemon grove he came almost face to face with a handsome buck which had wandered over from the Baldwin oaks. Or it may have come up from the Santa Anita wash where a drove of deer may be seen almost any day. The buck was in no hurry to run away, seeming to feel that open seasons mean nothing in his scheme of life since the Sierra Madre mountains have been made a game refuge and the surrounding territory is all in corporate cities where hunting is prohibited.

So Mr. Steinberger took the rifle and went on to join Officer Stanton for a trip to Soledad canyon on the other side of the range. But the buck in Pegler's front yard was the only one he saw.

NIZE KITTY—

Jean Metcalf, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Metcalf, has one of the prize animal stories of the vacation season to relate. Her daddy likes the mountains so well that when he gets a vacation from his duties as flood control engineer in our Sierra Madre mountains, he just goes off to some other mountains for a change. So the family have recently returned from a fine motor trip to Giant Forest and the North Fork of the Kern River.

Jean likes to tell people about her pet six-toed cat, but over in the Sierras near Kernville she found a man who told her she did not have much of a cat to talk about. He invited her around the corner of his house to see his pet cat, and there was a full grown mountain lion. He had caught it when it was a cub, before its eyes were opened, and raised it like a member of the family till it is now two and a half years old. Standing on its hind legs with paws on his shoulders it is more than six feet high. When he holds a fish on the end of a long stick, high above his head, the big cat jumps over him with ease, striking the pole to knock the fish down and catching it in his mouth before it hits the ground. The cat accompanies his master on hunting trips, sticking by him with a fidelity which would do credit to the most faithful "one-man dog." At home the animal is kept in leash with a chain.

TERRIER SHEPHERD DOG—

Vic Hill and Donald Tarr bro't home another interesting animal story from the mountains between San Diego and Imperial County last week. Driving along a lonely road they were met by a wire haired fox terrier. With feet planted wide and hair bristling he disputed the right of way. As the car approached he retreated a little and took up another stand. Little by little he gave way until they came to a herd of Angora goats which were crossing the highway. The little fellow stood guard there until every goat was safely across, then gave way for the motor to pass. The boys said there was not a human being in evidence, the little terrier apparently having sole responsibility for the long-haired goats.

Chiropractic Health Talks

By Dr. Harold Elk

ON EYES

Everyone likes to have good eyes. Defective eyes are the cause of a lot of misery. Headaches, nervousness, irritability, poor vision and pain are some of the things resulting in poor eyes. The trouble may be in the eye itself or it may be the result of disorders of the kidneys, stomach, etc.

In the eye itself the trouble is either in the optic nerve, the refractory media or the muscles controlling lens, the size of the pupils or the movement of the eyeball. In either case it is a lack of function, a lack of control by the vital force resident in the body. If all the nerves were cut leading to the arm, that arm would be useless. Would not a pressure on the nerves leading to the arm cause a partial loss of control? Also would not that arm degenerate and become diseased?

This is what has happened to the eye when it becomes abnormal. Especially should children's eyes be examined and proper care instituted. No one wishes to go through life wearing glasses. Glasses will relieve the symptoms but they do not remove the cause and consequently must be worn constantly, a stronger pair being required every so often as the eyes get weaker.

Remove the cause, which is a pressure on a nerve, and the effect will disappear. Chiropractic releases the pressure on nerves, thereby removing the cause, and nature does the rest by restoring the abnormal part to normal.

"Maybe if I reduce to about eighty-five pounds there will be no room left for the rheumatism," said Fred as he sadly shook hands with Mac and Ed and inhaled a lot of Inyo county dust, stirred up by Mac's disappearing auto.

WAVE MACHINE JUST INSTALLED IN BEAUTY SHOP

Mrs. V. S. Vaupel of the Wistaria Beauty Shoppe is highly elated over the arrival and installation of her new permanent wave machine. It is the latest product of the Shelton company, the best known concern in the industry. It was ordered when Mrs. Vaupel first opened the establishment but in order to get the latest model she had to wait until it could arrive from the factory in the east.

The machine is electrically operated and under absolute control. On account of the heat varying with the voltage, Mrs. Vaupel went to the added expense of having a special voltmeter attachment which provides for the most accurate timing, taking into consideration not only the actual voltage but also the texture of the hair.

As a special means of attracting attention to the new equipment, Mrs. Vaupel has arranged for a special public demonstration for next Monday forenoon. Her advertisement also tells of a special price reduction for ladies who register early for permanent wave treatment.
